

REFLECTION

Shantelle Dame M. Sible

Honestly, the process of making this CS project wasn't easy. It was hard because sometimes there are misunderstandings and miscommunications happening within the process especially in assigning tasks but, we were able to present a very good app and presentation. It's a good thing that we did our very best to make this project something memorable to work with.